Welcome

Welcome to Liverpool John Moores University

Our city and our university stand tall together. We are lucky to have grown from the confident, ambitious origins of Liverpool and have a shared history built on working hard, caring about supporting people and communities and being proud of who we are.

We have a distinct place in our lively city with its warm, witty, friendly and open people. We share a spirit of adventure with a community striving to make a difference and put something back.

Our staff, students and alumni are the beating heart of this university, with an impact that goes beyond academic, economic and social metrics. It can be seen in our physical footprint around the city, our global connections and how often you will meet someone who has been transformed by a connection with our university and has helped transform the lives of others.

Making a difference is what a university should be about. It is what we are about. It is who we are. It is Liverpool John Moores University.

Active Blended Learning

The University has adopted an Active Blended Learning approach to programme delivery. This combines the best of in-person teaching with online provision. This blend will be managed differently from programme to programme to ensure that it best meets the needs of the students and the discipline. The University has an excellent Virtual Learning Environment ('Canvas') that enables us to deliver online teaching in a variety of different ways. This could be through live lectures or seminars. We call this 'synchronous learning'. In addition to being presented with important subject information, this will provide an opportunity for you to get involved in activities, ask questions and share ideas with lecturers and your fellow students in 'real time'. In addition, your tutors may provide online materials that will guide you through a series of tasks to support your studies. This is known as 'asynchronous learning'. The actual combination of synchronous and asynchronous activities will vary from module to module. However, all online learning will be scheduled and appear in your personal timetable alongside times that you are expected in University. This will give you an indication of how long you should spend in online study for each module, but remember that this is only part of the picture. In addition, you will also be expected to undertake independent study. Here, lecturers might suggest reading and other learning activities but there is very little direct supervision. Instead, you will have the opportunity to explore module content on a deeper level and in a way that best suits your individual approach to learning.

You will also be able to book both in-person or online tutorials using our SeeMyTutor software. This means that you can easily arrange to meeting with your personal tutor in their office or via a video-call.

We believe that our active blended approach will provide a rich and diverse learning experience. The combination of online and face-to-face learning will enable you to engage fully in your studies and support you through your assessments.

Introduction to your programme

Welcome to your initial teacher education (ITE) programme at Liverpool John Moores University (LJMU). We find ourselves in uncharted waters with the effects of COVID-19 on education. In recent months we have witnessed the astonishing flexibility and adaptability of our students and staff at LJMU and their commitment in supporting pupils and schools during these unprecedented times. In some ways, nothing changes at LJMU. We continue to dedicate ourselves to excellence and to educating teachers who will take a lead in learning and teaching in the North West region and beyond.

The LJMU Teacher is committed to providing a high-quality teaching and widening opportunities for children and young people. Our postgraduate programmes have been designed in collaboration with schools in the LJMU Partnership and in consultation with student teachers. LJMU Teachers have an excellent reputation in schools and our graduates are highly employable; many securing jobs in the region, with national and international opportunities.

Your programme is part of Department of Teacher Education, in the School of Education within the Faculty of Arts, Professional and Social Studies. It forms part of a suite of initial teacher training programmes, across a range of subject specialist areas taught in the primary sector.

This programme guide will outline information about your course, which leads to Qualified Teacher Status (QTS), and includes an overview of the programme assessments. It also outlines the university's rules and regulations and the code of professional conduct that you agree to abide by when you enrol and begin your study. It will also provide more specific information about your course of study and specific contact details.

Learning to teach in primary schools is both challenging and rewarding, involving teaching practise alongside your academic study. As a student teacher at LJMU, you will be supported by experienced university-based tutors and school-based mentors; both as a student teacher and in the transition to becoming a newly qualified teacher (NQT). Your academic study is designed to support you in understanding theory in practice (and vice versa).

Teaching is a rewarding and important career, requiring resilience and commitment, making an essential contribution to the cultural and economic development of society. Your tutors and I wish you every success as you embark on your career as a LJMU Teacher.

What you need to know about your programme

We work in partnership with local schools, and other educational establishments, is to educate teachers who will play a significant role in the schooling of young people equipped for a modern and socially inclusive society. Our programme will develop your subject and pedagogical knowledge and is informed by international research and professional experience.

The PGCE programme is awarded on passing two modules (including the placement experience), leading to 60 Level 7 credits (Masters level) and recommendation for Qualified Teacher Status (QTS). The recommendation for QTS follows the successful completion of the Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118EBEC), in which student teachers must pass their placement experience, meeting all of the Teachers' Standards (DfE, 2011).

Each module is assessed using a variety of methods including presentation, assignments and school practice.

The programme is taught through online sessions, lectures, workshop seminar, tutorials and online learning. Students are responsible for preparation prior to, and following up, formal taught sessions, considering the impact of their learning and development on their practice. A range of planned approaches will be taken to support active blended learning. Teaching will be both synchronous (live in real time) and asynchronous (activity not in real time) with a focus on interactivity and social learning, curated learning materials, and activity that scaffolds and consolidates learning.

Staff teaching on the programme have a range of research interests directly relevant to teacher education and learning in school that inform teaching. Research interests include subject pedagogy and knowledge, reflective practice, arts education, professionalism, STEM and more.

Programme Structure

The programme is comprised of approximately 60 days university-based training and at least 120 days on placement. The placement model is broken down into three phases, as outlined below, with the teaching expectations and timetable increasing as the year progresses:

Phase 1	Observation and beginning teaching and learning
Phase 2	Consolidating and developing teaching and learning
Phase 3	Extending teaching and learning leading to Qualifying to Teach

The expectations for each phase are detailed in the Placement Experience website available at: <http://www.itt-placement.com/>

Professional Development towards the QTS Standards is structured within the PGCE programme around the Phases of training, through which trainees are expected to demonstrate increasing professional responsibility for developing confidence and competence throughout the course.

The programme consists of two interrelated modules, designed to develop:

- critical understanding and practical application of educational theory
- active reflection informing your professional development

Recommendation for qualified teacher status (QTS) is a result of:

- passing the 20-credit Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118SBEC) module
- successful completion of school-based Placement Experience
- demonstrating that the Teachers' Standards have been met in full

Time for Study

Initial Teacher Education is an intensive, full-time programme involving university-based study and teaching practise within at least two educational establishments. Module guides provide details of the module learning outcomes and assessments, and can be access through the Canvas, our virtual learning environment (VLE) at <https://canvas.ljmu.ac.uk/>.

The programme calendar and the timetable for the university-based lectures, workshops and seminar are located Canvas, within the Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118EBEC) module. Successful completion of the academic component of the course will require at least 640 hours of study divided between taught sessions, private study and completion of work-related activities. Further study time includes professional development activities, which will enable the you to meet the Teachers' Standards. The PGCE module titles are:

Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118PBEC)

Reflecting on Teaching and Learning (7218PREF)

Core text

The programme core texts is:

Subject pedagogy

Subject specific texts will be recommended in sessions but you may like to access this list too:

<https://www.routledge.com/Subjects-in-the-Primary-School/book-series/SE0134>

Study Skills for Higher Education

As you step up to Masters Level study, the following texts will be useful:

Ridley, D. (2012). The literature review: A step-by-step guide for students (second edition). London: Sage Publications Ltd.

Wallace, M. and Wray, A. (2016). Critical reading and writing for Postgraduates (third edition). United States: SAGE Publications Ltd.

How you will be assessed

Student teachers are assessed in accordance with LJMU's Academic Framework. Assessments are designed to meet the specific intentions and requirements for each module, and module assignments bridge the gap between practice and theory that most beginning teachers experience at the beginning of ITE. You will attend detailed assessment briefings and guidance on suggested assignment structures are also available in module guides. The same grading criteria, based on the LJMU Level 7 descriptors, are used for three of the four modules (excluding 7118EBEC, which is assessed against the Teachers' Standards at the end of the programme). All coursework directly relates to your professional practice and requires that you engage with the module reading lists and the referenced work in lectures, seminars and workshops. This Programme Guide outlines the module assessments (below) and individual module guides provide the details.

Support within the programme

The programme is carefully designed to prepare student teachers to plan, deliver and evaluate effective learning. Tutorial support is built into the programme through: (a) scheduled group tutorials with your university-based Liaison Tutor, (b) co-observations at your placement school by your Liaison Tutor and school-based ITT Mentor, and (c) an individual Final Tutorial to agree your development plan for your Early Career Teacher Induction. You can also request an informal or ad hoc tutorial with your Liaison Tutor, subject to their availability. Module Leaders, with their teams, are responsible for preparing student teacher for module assessments, making links with the five strands list above. All questions relating to module assessments must be address directly to the relevant module leader (see Module Guides for contact details).

Study support is built into the curriculum timetable and additional sessions are available to support the transition to postgraduate writing. The first summative assignment is weighted at 20% of the Reflecting on Teaching Learning (7218EREF) module, to support the transition in academic writing from undergraduate (Level 6) to postgraduate (Level 7) study. Feedback on drafts of summative assignments is only available for students who have failed or underperformed on a previous assessment, and tutor can comment on a sample of max. 500 words. Please note that tutors are not permitted to give any indication of a mark or refer directly to the assessment criteria when commenting on drafts.

There are two aspects of the assessment of the course, the PGDE and QTS:

Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE)

- 60 Level 7 credits from two modules (see below)
- The award conferred by LJMU through the Board of Examiners
- The Result Statement and Transcript are downloaded in July (date to be confirmed) from the My LJMU Portal at <https://myresults.ljmu.ac.uk/>
- Graduations are in November (typically in the third week), after the course, and information can be found at <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/students/graduation> - we aim to confirm the potential date at the end of the course

Qualified Teacher Status (QTS)

- On successful completion of the Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118EBEC) module
- QTS is conferred by the Department for Education (DfE) through the Teaching Regulation Agency (TRA)
- On successful completion of the course, you will be able to download your QTS Certificate July (date to be confirmed) from the Teacher Self-Service Portal at

¹ Student teachers are advised not to book travel or holidays immediately after the end of the course until the Phase 3 Interim Review Form has been completed confirming that all standards are being met above the minimum level.

Your Modules

In order to be awarded a PGCE, students must successfully complete and pass the two modules below:

7118PBEC Becoming a Professional Teacher 20 Credits	7218PREF Reflecting on Teaching and Learning 40 Credits

Each module has a specific focus on an aspect of teaching, with 20 Credit modules having a narrow focus on a specific aspect of professional practice, and 40 Credit modules have a broad focus on wider pedagogical and curriculum matters. See the 'Modules' section (below) for an overview of each module and the assessment dates.

Target exit award

The target exit award for this programme is Postgraduate Diploma in Education (primary), which is confirmed by the Board of Examiners (July) on completion of the following modules with 60 Level 7 credits:

- 7118EBEC Becoming a Professional Teacher (20 Credits)
- 7218EREF Reflecting on Teaching and Learning (40 Credits)

If a module assessment is (a) failed (<50) or (b) not attempted (NAT), a referral opportunity will be offered by the main Board of Examiners (after the end of the course, in July). Referrals are submitted at the end of July (date to be confirmed) and considered by a referral Board of Examiners in August. Referral marks are capped at 50 by the Board of Examiners. Students are able to decline the offer of a referral, by emailing the programme leader before the Board of Examiners, no sooner than the last week of the programme, in June.

If there are personal circumstances for you not submitting a module assessment, students can either:

- Request an extension from the appropriate Module Leader (typically limited to a maximum of 15 working days)
- Apply for Personal Circumstances (PC) via the My LJMU Portal at <https://myservices.ljmu.ac.uk/>

Module assessments listed in a successful PC are submitted as deferrals and marks are not capped. Deferrals are submitted at the end of July (date to be confirmed) and considered by a referral Board of Examiners in August.

Alternative exit awards

Students must pass module 7118EBEC to be recommended to the national awarding body for the award of QTS. All students must demonstrate that they have met all requirements for QTS as set out in the current relevant national requirements in order to be recommended for QTS. The Placement Experience procedures, on the LJMU Placement Website, outline the expectations of the LJMU Partnership to meet the competency requirement (Teaching Practice) for this module.

A non-QTS alternative exit award of Postgraduate Certificate in Primary Education Studies (PGCert), without recommendation for QTS, may be awarded where students complete 60 Level 7 credits with any combination of the following modules:

- 7218EREF Reflecting on Teaching and Learning (40 Credits)
- 7518EDU Education and Schooling (20 Credits) – transfer from 7118EBEC

An alternative exit award of Certificate of Professional Development Award with recommendation for QTS (CPQ) can be offered to students who pass 7118EBEC Becoming and Professional Teacher (linked to the Placement Experience), achieving 20 Level 7 credits.

Using technology to enhance your learning

Learning, work and life are changing rapidly, and here at LJMU we want to provide you with a safe, secure, engaging and dynamic learning experience both in-class and online. We use a range of technologies to build bridges between these two worlds, which will help on your learning journey to develop your knowledge, skills and understanding. A key technology at the heart of your learning experience is Canvas, the University's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE).

What does Canvas do?

Canvas provides easy access to your learning materials, tasks to help you develop your understanding and live online activities to share your ideas with your peers and tutors. It is also the place where you will usually submit your final assessments. Your tutors will provide you with the necessary resources, but you need to dedicate time and energy to get the most from this learning experience.

Canvas will also help to keep you up to date with information from tutors and peers, assessment deadlines and online events. Download the Canvas Student phone app and receive notifications to make sure you never miss an important message.

Canvas is linked to a range of tools that can support your individual learning but also allows you to connect with others and share ideas. For instance, LJMU has provided you with an office 365 account. This allows you to create documents and store them securely online. It is connected with Canvas, so you can share documents during group learning tasks and collaborate on the same document at the same time.

If you have any problems with Canvas, Canvas experts are available 24/7 to answer your questions, just click the help button in the Canvas Menu to find online guides or get help via telephone, chat or email. If you need help that's not Canvas related visit the LJMU Off-Campus support website.

Canvas will be used in a variety of ways to support your online study. You should be logging each day there are sessions, following the academic timetable to access both live and pre-recorded aspects of your module. The team will also put a range of activities and readings to support your learning and many of the Canvas tools will be utilised; discussion boards, conference, quizzes and collaborations. You should be logging onto Canvas every week to engage with the active blended learning of the programme as well as with other students and staff. You will have access to a Community Site (CPEH37) as well as your 2x module Canvas sites (7218eref, 7118ebec).

Timetabling and attendance

The more effort you put in, the more you will get out of being at LJMU. This will be reflected in both your academic marks and your personal and professional development. Please make every effort to attend all of your timetabled activities, whether they are face-to-face or online.

It is your responsibility to attend lectures, seminars or tutorials, as well as any other activities delivered as part of the modules you are studying. We also expect you to engage fully with learning materials provided on the Virtual Learning Environment (Canvas).

The student attendance policy can be accessed at www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/student-regulations/guidance-policy-and-process

Punctuality

Student teachers are expected to maintain appropriate standards of behaviour in university and on placement. This includes being ready to learn or to teach at the correct time. Employing schools usually request information on student teachers' punctuality in reference requests, indicating that it is viewed as an important professional behaviour. Being punctual means that you are prepared for the session or the lesson on your timetable, and you should plan to be where you are meant to be at least 5 minutes early. Arriving late for lectures, workshops and seminars (in school on university) reflects poorly on individuals, especially as mentors and tutors will be expected to write honest references during and at the end of the course. If you arrive late, with a good reason, you must ensure that you explain your circumstances to your mentor/tutor – and avoid making a habit of it.

Please note that personalised calendars for the year, for your route are available here: <http://www.itt-placement.com/pgce-primary-3-7/course-overview.php>.

Absence Reporting

In cases of absence, it is the trainee's responsibility to ensure that both LJMU and the placement school are informed. Student teachers are required to report short periods of absence (maximum 5 days) using the My LJMU Portal (<https://myservices.ljmu.ac.uk/Forms/AbsenceReport.aspx>) to report all absences, completing the online form and clearly stating your reason for absence, and...

- 1) Email the Tutor/Module Leader by 08:30 on the day of any absence from university or school-based training days,
- 2) Follow the staff absence reporting procedures for the placement school any absence from placement, indicating to your ITT Mentor the activities you had planned for the classes you were scheduled to teach

A valid Statement of Fitness to Work (aka 'sick note') must be provided for all absences over 5 working days, to itt-absence@ljmu.ac.uk. If you think that you may exceed this period, you must make an appointment to see your GP by the fifth day of absence, in order to obtain the statement.

Absence and interviews for teaching posts

We encourage our student teachers to begin searching and applying for teaching posts as early as November, during the course. Absence from placement to attend interviews for teaching posts must be reported (as outlined above) but are not classed as days absent from placement.

Progress on placement

Student teachers are expected to uphold the highest professional standards for conduct at all times on the programme, both in and outside of school. Where a student teacher is making insufficient progress on placement (i.e. below expectations for the Phase of training or acting contrary to the Teachers' Standards and Professional Code of Conduct), and the school has raised concerns, a number of intervention measures are available for trainees, tutors and mentors to support progress. Interventions include the Additional Support Framework (ASF) and a Referral Placement outlined on the LJMU Placement website (www.itt-placement.com). When a student teacher is continuing to experience difficulty meeting the Teachers' Standards, after a period working with ASF targets, it may be appropriate to hold an additional formal tutorial with the Personal/Liaison Tutor and Programme Leader (or Partnership Lead) to discuss issues around progress and appropriate action. This kind of tutorial may also be convened to address matters such as unauthorised absence and unsatisfactory attendance. In extreme circumstances, where a school withdraws or terminates a placement because of a failure to maintain professional standards and/or the LJMU Professional Code of Conduct are not adhered to, the University may instigate a Fitness to Practice investigation.

University ITE Placement procedures can be found at <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/student-regulations/guidance-policy-and-process>

Professional accreditations

Your Programme is a course of Professional Training. If you successfully complete all academic requirements, all your school placement experiences, and if you provide suitable evidence to show that you have attained the Teachers' Standards (2012) you will be recommended for Qualified Teacher Status at the completing students' assessment board.

Professional Development towards the Teachers' Standards is structured around a series of Phases of Training, through which you are expected to demonstrate increasing professional responsibility for developing confidence and competence throughout the course. You will also be expected to abide by the Faculty's Code of Professional Conduct for Trainees at LJMU that you agreed to when enrolling on to the programme. For the award of QTS students need to pass all three phase placements.

Disclosure and Barring Service

You are registered on a programme that brings you into contact with children and/or vulnerable adults. Therefore, you have been required to have a check with the Disclosure and Barring Service through the University as part of your conditions. The Faculty has a Criminal Convictions Panel, with external members, at which any trainee whose check shows evidence of a Police record is considered in the context of their suitability to remain on their chosen course of study.

Your Personal Tutor

With knowledge of you, your discipline area and course expectations, you will have a Personal Tutor whose role is to guide your academic development as you progress through your studies, and encourage you to make the most of the University experience for your personal and professional growth. They will also help you find appropriate University support should issues arise that impact on your ability to complete your studies successfully. You will have a scheduled opportunity to meet individually with your Personal Tutor (this may be virtually or in person) at least twice per year for a progress review, but you may of course contact them as and when needed.

On this PGCE course your Personal Tutor (PT) is also your Liaison Tutor (LT), who is your link with LJMU when you are on placement.

You can contact your PT/LT via email and they will aim to reply as soon as possible within their working hours. Some of the team are part time or sessional so may not be available every day. They will usually display out of office to help you know their availability.

In addition, it is possible to book an appointment using the SeeMyTutor facility on the LJMU home page.

Throughout your PGCE year your PT/LT will hold group and individual tutorials to support you in your development and brief you on the changes in expectations of each phase of placement.

Please note that personalised calendars for the year, for your route are available here: <http://www.itt-placement.com/pgce-primary-3-7/course-overview.php>.

Personal Development Planning

Personal Development Planning (PDP) is a structured process intended to help you become a more effective, confident and independent learner. It will support you in gaining knowledge of your strengths but also of areas in need of further development related to your academic, personal and professional aspirations. You will be enabled to undertake Personal Development Planning through your programme.

Personal development planning on your PGCE is ongoing throughout the year. Your Mentor in school will meet with you weekly, discuss your progress and work with you to develop short and long-term targets. These help you to gather your evidence towards the teacher standards and review the impact your teaching has had on pupil progress over time.

1. Demonstrate conceptual and procedural knowledge as outlined in professional standards, including conduct and the wider responsibilities
2. Evaluate the impact of relevant and up-to-date subject knowledge, pedagogy and didactics on learning and progress

Where a student teacher has failed a module assessment, the main Board of Examiners (July) can offer a referral task (submitted in early-August). Referrals will be considered by the referral Board of Examiners (late-August) – students who submit and pass referral/deferral tasks can graduate with their peers in November. Should a student fail to submit or pass their referral/deferral task(s), the referral Board of Examiners can offer alternative exit awards, as outlined in the programme specification, if they email the programme leader (from their LJMU account), in advance, indicating that the wish to (a) decline further opportunities to complete their target award and (b) accept an alternative exit award (subject to eligibility). Please note that Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118PBEC) must be passed in order to be recommended for QTS.

Note: Trainees who fail the Placement Experience in Phase 2 are offered a Referral Placement (see Placement website - www.itt-placement.com – and 7118EBEC Canvas). Student teachers who pass a Referral Placement progress as normal on the programme, and student teachers who do not may opt to transfer from the 7118EBEC Becoming a Professional Teacher module (linked to the recommendation for QTS) to a non-QTS module, 7518EDU Educating and School, with the opportunity to be awarded an alternative exit award (see above). The learning outcomes for 7518EDU are:

1. Critically analyse policy and research relating to education and schooling
2. Critically reflect on school experience and observations

Modules

Your programme is divided into units of study called modules. Each module explores a subject relevant to your programme of study. What you will learn in each module is described by its intended Learning Outcomes. These outcomes form the basis for the criteria against which you will be assessed in order to gain credit from the module.

Core and Option Modules

Depending on your programme, modules may be designated as either a Core or an Option:

- Core modules are compulsory.
- Where option modules exist, they offer choice from within a range of modules to be studied. Choice of modules may enable you to pursue particular areas of interest or to develop particular subject specialisms. In making a choice, you may find it useful to think about future study and career aspirations.

The following modules are offered to students studying in 2021/22:

Level 7	Modules	Semester of Delivery	Module Leader (s)
	7218eref (compulsory)	1&2	Sarah Hindhaugh
	7118ebec (compulsory)	1&2	Sarah Hindhaugh

The approaches the University takes to enhance teaching and learning are set out in the Teaching and Learning Strategy 2017-2022. The University sets targets in relation to the student experience, which include NSS satisfaction scores for teaching and for assessment and feedback, and outcomes for student retention and achievement. The Teaching and Learning Strategy is supported by Faculty Plans and each Faculty identifies priorities and actions for the forthcoming academic year.

Early Career Development and Employability Support Programme

Initial Teacher Education at LJMU involves successful completion of the 120-day Placement Experience in two education establishments (in a Home School and an Alternate Placement setting). For further information about the Placement Experience procedures at LJMU, go to the LJMU Placement website at www.itt-placement.com. In particular, you must read the Course Overview, which outlines the placement model, dated, Phase related expectations, etc., in Section B at <http://www.itt-placement.com/pgce-primary-3-7/course-overview.php>

You can also find documentation and guidance for the school-based mentoring documentation at <http://www.itt-placement.com/pgce-primary-3-7/mentor-development.php> and lesson planning at <http://www.itt-placement.com/pgce-primary-3-7/support-for-trainees.php>

The successful completion of the Becoming a Professional Teacher (7118EBEC) module, outlined above and in the Module Guide, leads to recommendation for QTS. Student teachers should arrange to spend at least two days observing learning in primary key stage 2 lessons and one day in a post 16 setting, as an enhancement and enrichment. Enhancements are generally arranged, by you with support from school-based mentors, during either Phase 1 or in the 'Triangulation and Final Focus' period of Phase three, in the last three weeks on placement in June.

Get That Job Day and your First Teaching Post

Get That Job Day (GTJD) is an annual event and recruitment conference for ITE trainees, with seminars from senior leaders and specialists, a marketplace event with recruitment agencies, and showcase interviews in the afternoon to deconstruct and demystify the interview process for teaching posts. This is a popular event with trainees and will be in February this year.

Your Liaison Tutor will provide individual support with applications for teaching posts; giving you feedback on your covering letter, which has a particular format for teaching posts and writing your LJMU Teacher Reference. On applications forms, you should put your tutor's name and use the central references email address: TPLREFP@ljmu.ac.uk – please ensure that you use this email address to avoid delays in processing your applications for teaching posts.

Where can I find out more about careers, employability and enterprise support beyond my course?

Submitting coursework

Coursework is always submitted through the module Canvas site, in the assignments section.

The University acknowledges that there may be occasions when a student's performance in assessment may be adversely affected by serious and exceptional factors outside of their control. Such events include sudden acute illness or close personal bereavement.

The Personal Circumstances procedure operates within specific deadlines following the affected assessment event.

For information about the Personal Circumstances process, please visit: <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/academic-registry/student/registry-services/assessment-coursework-and-examination/problems-completing-your-assessment>

Marking criteria

Marking/Assessment criteria are the knowledge, understanding and skills that you are expected to demonstrate in the particular assessment task(s). These criteria are based on the intended learning outcomes and should help you in identifying what you need to do in order to achieve a particular mark in the given assessment task. Tutors use these criteria when marking your assignments to determine the mark given and to provide feedback to you on your performance.

Institutional Grading Descriptors can be accessed in Appendix C of the Curriculum Design Guide here: www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/academic-quality-and-regulations/academic-framework.

Please check for specific guidance and criteria supplied by module leaders.

Note: The grading criteria for the summative assignment are based on the LJMU Level 7 Grading Criteria.

Feedback strategy

Feedback is a critical part of the learning process. The purpose of feedback is not restricted to providing information on your performance on a single assignment but is also to support your development in future assessments.

LJMU's policy on feedback determines that:

- Student assessment deadlines will be published alongside University feedback deadlines

Details of assessment submission deadlines and feedback return will be provided in programme and module guides.

- Feedback will be available 15 working days after the assessment deadline

Unless otherwise stated, you should expect to receive feedback on assessed written coursework (not examinations or dissertations) 15 working days after the assessment deadline. Feedback may mean marks as well as more detailed written comments; the marks will be subject to moderation, so should not be taken as the final mark.

Working days exclude Saturday and Sunday, bank holidays and any other day on which the University is closed.

- Feedback will relate to the assessment criteria

All assessment tasks are marked according to published assessment criteria, as described above. Tutors will use these criteria when providing you with feedback to help you to understand how well you have done and why. In this way, feedback should be helpful to you in subsequent similar assessment tasks in any modules.

- Students will be entitled to face-to-face feedback on their first piece of assessed work

Early on in each year of study, you will have an opportunity for face-to-face feedback on a piece of assessed work. This will not necessarily be in a one to one meeting with your tutor but may be done in a group setting, such as a tutorial.

Your First Submission

The first submission on the programme is for 7218EREF Reflecting on Teaching and Learning. This module has two summatively assessed components, the first of which being weighted at 20% of the module mark. This assignment is submitted in Semester 1 and enables trainees to accrue module marks without the module outcome being adversely affected should they fail. The marker's comments for 7218EREF Summative Assignment AS1 are design to provide formative feedback and feedforward to inform future submissions.

Refer to the relevant module information for the assignment guidance and assessment criteria for each submission, located in 'Module Information' section of each module in Canvas (<https://canvas.ljmu.ac.uk/>). Further advice and guidance will be provided in university sessions, and resources (including exemplars) that will also be available in Canvas.

Advice on Responding to Feedback

You can access your feedback on the relevant Canvas course for each module, via the submission point in the 'Assignment' section (i.e. in the same place as where you submitted the assignment). All further submissions after your first piece, ask you to submit a form which details what was your feedback and feedforward from your last submission, and how you have actioned this. The marker of your second piece will then comment on if you have achieved the targets which were set for you. We advise that trainees bear the following points in mind when reading and reflecting on feedback

"What does my feedback include?"

- The feedback is more important than the mark, and may be in two forms: (a) annotated comments within the body of the assignment, which may be linked to one of the Assessment Criteria; and (b) a general feedback comment indicating 'what went well' in the assignment and feedforward with 'even better if' targets/actions for future assignments.
- Please note, that all scripts will only be annotated for approximately three pages, your marker may chose to annotate the first three pages, or perhaps a selection of later pages. However, qualitative comments (feedback and feedforward will address all pages of the assignment).
- In addition to this, anomalies with spelling, punctuation and grammar may be highlighted, to draw them to your attention. You will need secure spelling, punctuation and grammar for successful teaching.

- The overall mark will also indicate, highlighting the Rubric, the relevant mark band for each of the Assessment Criteria. The highlighted rubric will show where you have been awarded marks for each section.

"What if I do not appear to have a mark and/or feedback?"

- Contact the relevant Module Leader straight away – see the relevant Module Guide for contact details.

"What if I have failed the assignment?"

- The pass mark for Level 7 modules is 50%.
- Take time to read and reflect on your feedback before contacting the Module Leader.
- If you have a mark below 50%, you will be offered a Referral Task by the Board of Examiners (July) for submission in the summer. Refer to the relevant Module Guide for referral tasks and contact the Module Leader for advice on how to respond to your feedback.
- Academic support is available centrally through Study Support (look out for emails from Study Skills), and there will also be additional support sessions for ITE trainees.

"What if I disagree with my mark and feedback?"

- The programme team follows a standardisation process and the start of the feedback period and 10 or 10% (whichever is greater) assignments are second marked at the end of the process, with marks being moderated where appropriate. This process is outlined in the Module Guides, and above.
- All fails are second marked and our External Examiners are asked to comment on the accuracy of marking and feedback, before the Board of Examiners. Note that marks are not finalised until the Board.
- As such, the assessment process may be challenged, but not the mark; and the Module Leader will confirm that procedures have been followed.

"What can I do to improve my performance in future assignments?"

- Read and reflect on your feedback.
- Use <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/microsites/library/skills-ljmu> to book in with Skills@LJMU for either a 1:1 support session or to join a group session.
- Use the draft reading service which is available to all students <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/~media/library/library-skills/feedforward.pdf?la=en>
- Ask a critical friend to read your work for you before you hand in.
- Read the Module Guide and assignment guidance, including the Level 7 grading criteria (especially in the band that you want to be scoring in).
- Be strategic: you need to pass all your modules to pass the course, so balance your time and effort between teaching and academic commitments. Whilst it is nice to get high marks, your qualification is the worth the same to employers, whether you average 51% or 85% across your modules!

- When reading your feedback, be mindful that there is often a tendency for learners (including ourselves as teachers) to go straight to the mark, and only read the comments and targets if we 'don't like' or agree with the mark. As a trainee teacher, it is helpful to remember this and to engage with (and respond to) feedback, irrespective of your overall mark. Be open to constructive criticism and read for understanding, to learn and make progress.

Fairness, consistency and standards

For every piece of work that is formally marked, there will be procedures in place to ensure that the marking is fair, consistent and upholds academic standards. For most assessments, including examinations, there is anonymous marking so that the marker does not know the student who has produced the work. A proportion of the work will be marked by a second member of staff. External examiners, experts in the subject from outside the University, are appointed to every programme and will look at samples of work from across the programme. These procedures will ensure that students work is properly and fairly marked, and any potential bias are removed. Once the marks for all the assessments on your programme have been moderated and finalised a Board of Examiners can meet.

The role of external examiners

The University appoints an external examiner for every programme. They will either be from another University or Higher Education Institution or from industry where that plays a major role in your programme. The role of the external examiner is to provide informative comment and recommendations upon whether or not:

- the University is maintaining the threshold academic standards set for awards in accordance with the frameworks for higher education qualifications and applicable subject benchmark statements
- the assessment process measures student achievement rigorously and fairly against the intended outcomes of the programme(s) and is conducted in line with the University policies and regulations
- the academic standards are comparable with those in other UK higher education institutions and that programme content is current and up-to-date
- the achievements of students are comparable with those in other UK higher education institutions.
- the external examiner also provides informative comment and recommendations on:
 - good practice and innovation relating to learning, teaching and assessment
 - opportunities to enhance the quality of the learning opportunities.

External examiners report to the University annually. This report is discussed and available to student representatives at Board of Study meetings. The External Examiner report will be made available to all students. Please ask your Programme Leader or Student Representative for further information.

External Examiners are appointed to ensure the quality management of HE programmes and it is not part of their remit to communicate with individual students. For this reason, please do not make direct contact with External Examiners in respect of your assessed work or performance. Any issues should be relayed directly to the Module or Programme Leader

There are three External Examiners for the PG primary programmes:

Dr Nicola Smith	Senior Lecturer in Primary/Early Years Education Director of Primary Initial Teacher Education	University of Birmingham
Dr Ruth Hudson	Course Director Education and Early Years	Staffordshire University
Dr Nasreen Maji	Associate Professor of Primary Mathematics and School Director of Recruitment and Admissions	University of Reading

Progression and Classification

Students are required to attempt all items of summative assessment at the appointed time as a condition of the award of credit. Failure to do so will be deemed by the Board of Examiners to constitute failure in the module unless a claim for Personal Circumstances or Special Mitigation is found valid. See the Postgraduate Academic Framework Regulations, section PG.C4.3 and PG.C4.4 for further details. www.ljmu.ac.uk/~media/sample-sharepoint-libraries/policy-documents/247.pdf.

Classification of award

Award marks determine the classification of the award as follows:

- Distinction – overall mark of 70% or above
- Merit – overall mark between 60 and 69%
- Pass – overall mark between 50 and 59%

For further information, the Postgraduate Academic Framework Regulations are available at www.ljmu.ac.uk/~media/sample-sharepoint-libraries/policy-documents/247.pdf.

If there is a professional body associated with your programme, you need to know if any additional regulations apply to your programme. Where this is applicable further information is available in the Professional Accreditations section of this guide.

If you have not achieved the full amount of credits for your award at the first attempt, you will be allowed a referral in the modules you have failed.

Referrals/deferrals

Referrals and exceptional second referrals

A referral is the opportunity to re-take assessment in a module in which you attained no credit after your first attempt. You only get one referral opportunity in each module. If you fail to gain the credits for a module at the second attempt, you may be eligible for an Exceptional Second Referral (ESR) for up to 20 credits, but in order to be eligible for an ESR you need to have achieved 100 credits at that level. See the Postgraduate Academic Framework Regulations, section PG.C7.14 (and PG.C5.5.8) for further details. www.ljmu.ac.uk/~media/sample-sharepoint-libraries/policy-documents/247.pdf.

If you are eligible, you will have a third attempt at the assessment. If you are not eligible for an ESR, you will not be able to progress or complete the programme. You will be advised about the options available to you and this may include an opportunity to re-register for a Final Module Attempt (FMA – see PG.C7.13). The maximum mark obtainable from a referral, ESR or FMA is 50%, or whatever is the minimum pass mark.

Some modules may not be eligible for Exceptional Second Referrals or Final Module Attempts. These are usually modules related to professional competency requirements.

Deferral

A deferral is the opportunity to undertake an assessment at the next assessment opportunity. This can only happen if you follow the Personal Circumstances procedure within the specified timeframe – see <https://myservices.ljmu.ac.uk>.

Deferred assessment attempts are marked as if you were attempting them for the first time i.e. not capped to the minimum pass mark.

Boards of Examiners

Boards of Examiners meet to consider the progress of every student at least once a year. The Boards make decisions on completion, progression and awards. The Board ensures the maintenance of appropriate standards of assessment and that all students are assessed fairly in accordance with the approved regulations and procedures.

How you will get your results

Students will access their results, in accordance with the University Result Notification Day, after the end of year Board of Examiners. A Result Statement and a Progress Transcript will be issued, the latter providing a detailed breakdown of assessment results. This is the only method by which results will be communicated and the University will not give out results over the telephone or by e-mail. Students who must undertake further assessment will have this requirement confirmed by the Board of Examiners and will receive details (including nature and timing of required re-assessment) of their referral/deferral requirements with their Result Statement. Students required to undertake further assessment (referrals and/or deferrals) to achieve their target award, will have this requirement confirmed by the Board of Examiners and will receive details (including nature and timing of required re-assessment) of their referral/deferral requirements with their Result . Students who wish to speak to someone regarding their results should speak to the Programme Leader in the first instance.

Academic Appeals

All students have the right to appeal against the decisions of a Board of Examiners, which confirms assessment results (marks, grades) and makes final awards. Students also have the right to appeal against the decision of a Personal Circumstance Panel or an Academic Misconduct Panel. There are strict eligibility criteria and timescales for appeals.

The Appeals Form is available at MyLJMU at <https://myservices.ljmu.ac.uk/>

The Appeals Guidance notes are available here: <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/student-regulations/student-appeals>

Student Complaints

If you are not satisfied with the level of service provided by LJMU or if you have some other cause for complaint, then the matter should be raised in the first instance with the person responsible for that service or department. You can do this either in person or in writing, but you should do this within 30 days of the incident, matter or concern.

If you believe that you have not had a satisfactory response or you feel that the matter is still unresolved, then you may wish to use the formal Student Complaints Procedure.

For further information on the Student Complaints Procedure:

- visit: <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/student-regulations/student-complaints>
- email: StudentGovernance@ljmu.ac.uk

Academic Misconduct

Academic Misconduct is deemed to cover deliberate attempts to gain an unfair advantage in assessments. This includes attempts to cheat, plagiarise, unauthorised collusion or any other deliberate attempt to gain an unfair advantage in summatively assessed work, including the submission of material commission from a third party.

If you are accused of Academic Misconduct you will be sent details of the allegation plus supporting evidence and invited to attend an Academic Misconduct Panel. John Moores Students Union: www.jmsu.co.uk can give you impartial advice on what to expect.

For information relating to LJMU's Academic Misconduct policies, please visit: <https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/student-regulations/academic-misconduct>

Additionally, information about Academic Misconduct can be found at: <https://myservices.ljmu.ac.uk/>

The LJMU Penalty Tariff

The University strives to ensure fairness and consistency in the application of penalties to students across all Faculties and has adopted a standard penalty tariff to be used in all cases of proven academic misconduct.

The principle behind the tariff is simple and serves to ensure that all students are aware of the penalties that they will receive if they are found guilty of academic misconduct.

The Penalty Tariff is contained within the University's Academic Misconduct Policy (<https://www.ljmu.ac.uk/about-us/public-information/student-regulations/academic-misconduct>).

Student Feedback

We want your feedback

Informal feedback and communication is sought from students on a daily basis. However, there are certain points in the year when the University formally asks you for your feedback in the form of surveys. The University values your feedback and encourages students to complete the formal surveys you receive in your student email account.

All survey results are looked at in-depth at various levels of the University and students should get involved in discussing any appropriate action that needs to take place to address any issues. Increasing the response rates of the surveys is vital to ensure the University is receiving the views of the majority of the student body. Publicity information when the surveys are running will be available across the University and via your LJMU email account.

Results of previous student feedback

This year students have studied largely online due to Covid-19. Students felt that there were a number of positives to be taken from this such as being able to access sessions at a later date and re-watch session. As a result of this feedback, when planning the programme, we have taken these thoughts into consideration and created a blended learning approach. We have identified sessions which work better in person, in a group together on campus, and also those sessions which work well on line and have planned the programme accordingly. We hope that this approach will provide students with 'the best of both worlds'.

Student representation and getting involved

LJMU aims to make every one of our courses as good as it can possibly be, and for that we need students' help. Every year, each programme elects Course Reps; fellow students who represent the views of their course mates to academic staff and the University. Course reps can influence everything from changes to the course curriculum to improving how the course is organised and supported by lecturers. By working together as equals, Course Reps and Lecturers can have a significant impact on the experience of going to LJMU.

Course Reps are elected at the start of every academic year and will receive training designed by John Moores Students' Union. They also receive continuous support in their role from relevant programme leaders and lecturing staff, as well as the Course Representation Team at JMSU. If you are interested in becoming a Course Rep contact your Programme Leader or coursereps@ljmu.ac.uk.

Follow Course Reps on Twitter @coursereps

Or on Facebook search for "LJMU Course Reps"

What is the Board of Study?

The Board of Study oversees the management and operation of the programme. Membership will consist of all staff teaching on the programme, other staff essential to the running of the programme and student course representatives. You can discuss any aspects of your programme with your course representative, in this way you can contribute to the formal running of the programme. Course representatives have an obligation to then feed back to their fellow students. Programme Leaders will ensure that Board of Study papers are available to all students. The Minutes of meetings will be shared in the 'My Course' area of MyLJMU <https://my.ljmu.ac.uk/>.

BoS dates:

BoS 1 18th October 5-6:30pm online

BoS 2 13th December 5-6:30pm online

BoS 3 1st April 5-6:30pm online

You should send your feedback to your course rep, in the weeks preceding the BoS. Your course rep will then send this feedback on to the Programme Leader, for inclusion in the papers for the meeting. You should structure your feedback in two parts: 'what's working well' and 'even better if'.
